Addiction and Mental illness is not a choice, but recovery is.

If you or someone you know needs help, use this resource guide to find sources of help. Treatment works. People do recover.

The Mental Health Resource Guide began as a project of Washington County Family & Children First Council’s “Access to Mental Health Initiative”. Acknowledging that mental health funding in Washington County is inadequate, a stakeholder’s group convened and determined that information about existing mental health resources would be valuable. A Core Team developed the following mission and vision statements:

MISSION STATEMENT

The mission of the “Access to Mental Health Initiative” is to improve access to available mental health services for Washington County residents.

VISION STATEMENT

All residents of Washington County seeking, or in need of mental health services shall have available complete and accurate resource information to better access services.

The Addiction and Mental Health Resource Guide, which will be updated annually, may be reproduced and can be found on the Washington County Behavioral Health website at <http://www.washingtongov.org/wcbhb> . For questions or to provide additional or corrected information for this guide, please contact the Behavioral Health Board office at 740-374-6990

Data provided is for information purpose only, and does not imply endorsement, fitness for use, legal sanction or license, nor in any way seeks to portray anything other than information upon which individuals may freely choose to engage the provider or its intermediaries in seeking desired services. Users of the information should understand that a provider being listed does not guarantee service availability or service delivery to the user and in no way constitutes legal referral.

What are the signs and symptoms of mental disorders?

There are a wide variety of signs and symptoms associated with mental illness, depending on the condition, the person, and other factors. The following are some of the signs and symptoms of mental illness:

- Feeling sad, down, hopeless and helpless
- Problems with speech, logical thinking, concentration or memory not explained by any physical conditions.
- Feeling disconnected from people and events
- Detachment from reality (delusions), paranoia or hallucinations
- Significant tiredness and low energy OR excessive energy and hyperactivity
- Feeling unable to cope with problems and stress
- Paranoia, fear or suspiciousness of other people; anxiety
- Trouble understanding and relating to situations and to people
- Alcohol or drug abuse
- Major changes in eating habits, personal hygiene and/or sleeping habits
- Unusual peculiar behavior
- Excessive anger, hostility or violence
- Thinking about suicide
- Unexplained physical discomforts, such as stomachache, back pain or headache.

Having one or two of these symptoms does not necessarily mean a person has a mental disorder, but if someone is experiencing several of these symptoms and it is interfering with his or her ability to perform everyday tasks or take care of normal responsibilities, it can make a huge difference if he or she sees a mental health professional.

Mental Health First Aid

(740) 374-6990

Washington County Behavioral Health Board

Mental Health First Aid is an adult public education program designed to improve participants' knowledge and modify their attitudes and perceptions about mental health and related issues, including how to respond to individuals who are experiencing one or more acute mental health crises or are in the early stages of one or more chronic mental health problems. The course is taught by a trained, certified instructor through an interactive 8-hour course. The course provides an introduction to risk factor, warning signs, and symptoms for a range of mental health problems; and provides an overview of common support and treatment resources for those with a mental health problem. Participants also are taught a five-step action plan, known as ALGEE, for use when providing Mental Health First Aid to an individual in crisis. After completing the course and passing an examination, participants are certified for 3 years as a Mental Health First Aider. By appointment only; call to schedule a MHFA course.

There may be a fee charged to cover costs.
